STRANGE, IS IT NOT

THAT SO MANY CLOTHIERS ARE SILENT THESE DAYS ON THE QUESTION OF ALL-WOOL

The trouble with the part cotton idea is that once you consent to the adulteration of a fabric you can never tell where the cotton leaves off and the wool begins. This store, for its part, stands side by side with the house nationally known for its unflinching advocacy of the ALL-WOOL principle—the celebrated makers of

KIRSHBAUM CLOTHES

and when we say the every garment bearing the Kirshbaum label is pure wool we do not mean fifty percent cotton, twenty-five percent cotton or ten percent cotton. We mean PURE WOOL and nothing else.
